XI. GENERAL INFORMATION

XI.1. Jakarta

The Special Capital Territory of Jakarta (Indonesian: Daerah Khusus Ibu Kota Jakarta), well-known as Jakarta, is the capital and the largest city of Indonesia. Located on the northwest coast of Java, Jakarta is the country's economic, cultural and political center. With its population of 10,187,595 as of November 2011, it is the most populous city in Indonesia and in Southeast Asia, as well as the twelfth-largest city in the world.

Established in the fourth century, the city once was an important trading port for the Kingdom of Sunda. It was the de facto capital of the Dutch East Indies (when it was known as Batavia) and has continued as the capital of Indonesia since the country's independence was declared in 17 August 1945.

Jakarta offers a wide range of entertainment, from historic places such as Museum Fatahillah and several museums surrounding it, including Maritime Museum, Wayang/Puppet Museum and Fine Art and Ceramic Museum, to its vibrant nightlife and high fashion shopping centers. Jakarta is famous for its iconic landmarks namely National Monument (Monas) and Batavia Stadhuis in the old town districts, and is a home to various cuisines that represent regional specialties of Indonesia.

XI.2. Weather

All through the year, Jakarta's climate is tropical and humid almost year-round; as it is so close to the equator, average temperature is almost exactly the same in January to July at about 83,2°F (28,5°C). Variation throughout the day is minimal as well, with low temperatures around 76,8°F (24,9°C) and highs of 89,6°F (32°C). The official wet season of Jakarta reliably falls between October and February each year, and although the climate and temperatures remain hot, irregular downpours can be expected at any time, particularly during the winter monsoon weather.

XI.3. Time

Time zone of Jakarta is UTC/GMT +7.

XI.4. Tipping

Major hotel services are inclusive of 21% tax, 11% is the government tax and another 10% is service charge. Some restaurants will include 5-10% service charge to their bills. Although all taxis are metered, some drivers may not carry coins, so it is wise to round up your bill. If the taxi meter shows Rp17.750, for instance, you can pay Rp18.000 or more if you find the service is satisfactory. In general, tipping is not a mandatory practice in many hotels, restaurants, taxis and other utilities in Indonesia. However, if you are satisfied with the service you may give 5-10% of the total bill.

XI.5. Electricity and Water Supply

The supply voltage in Indonesia is 220-240 volts and two-pronged plugs. Check before using an appliance. Tap water is not drinkable. We advise the participants to consume bottled water which can be purchased at the hotel or any nearby convenient stores.

XI.6. Smoking

There is no general prohibition on smoking in public areas in Jakarta. Restaurants, bars and food courts are divided into smoking and nonsmoking zones. Inside shopping centers, theaters, museums and other cultural or educational institutions smoking is totally prohibited, though designated areas are usually provided for smokers.

XI.7. Useful Telephone Number

XI.8. Credit Cards

Major credit cards, such as Visa and mastercard are widely accepted at hotels, restaurants, shops, etc. However, some restaurants and small shops accept cash payments only.

XI.9. Currency and atms

The official currency of Indonesia is Rupiah (IDR/Rp). All payments on the territory of Indonesia must be done in Rupiah. Credit card payments will also be carried out in Rupiah.

Currency exchange points are located at Soekarno-Hatta International Airport, main hotels, banks, money changers throughout the city. Major currencies are accepted for exchange. Currency exchange rates vary depending on the policies of a bank. Banks usually take commission for money exchange and participants are advised to take it into consideration. When making a currency exchange, some banks also ask to provide a passport or other identity document.

It is also possible to use the atms located in banks, hotels, large shopping centers. Information about the location of atms will be available at the information desks.

Exchange rate of the Central Bank of Indonesia as of 30 September 2013 is USD 1 = Rp. 11.500,-

XI.10. Mobile Phones Information

Local phone services are reliable. Both GSM and CDMA mobile phone systems are in operation. Most modern cell phones can work in several settings that can use roaming services in different networks. Most of the gsm phones in use in Indonesia, supporting the protocols of GSM-900 and GSM-1800, or in networks GSM-850 and GSM-1900. Long distance calls within Indonesia may be made by direct dialing through International Direct Dial (IDD) in major cities or through operated assisted calls. Telex and Fax services are readily available in major hotels.

XI.11. Meeting Security

Access to the venue and to shuttle buses will be granted only to the participants with ID badges. All meeting participants are requested to visibly show their ID badges at all time.
