Implementation of OIC-2025: Programme of Action (2016-2017)

Background

The OIC-2025, the strategic programme of action for the next decade (2016-2025) marks the second phase of the Ten Year Programme of Action (TYPOA) which was launched by the Third Extraordinary Session of the Islamic Summit Conference held at Makkah Al-Mukarramah in December 2005. The TYPOA in the 2005-2015 period is regarded as the first major attempt at the OIC platform to elaborate and pursue a multidimensional response to the challenges facing the Ummah in the intellectual, cultural, political, socio-economic and developmental fields. The TYPOA has been the subject of annual reviews and evaluation by the OIC institutions, mid-term review by the Member States as well as the yearly reports of the Secretary General to the regular sessions of the Council of Foreign Ministers which provided valuable input for its successor programme. Despite certain limitations, inherent to the programmes of this nature, the TYPOA provided the Ummah with a forward-looking blue print for enhancing joint Islamic action in various domains.

2. Benefitting from the experience of the TYPOA and building upon the lessons learned during that period, the development of OIC-2025 passed through a series of intense rounds of negotiations at intergovernmental experts level as well as informal consultations to ensure professional propriety of the entire process. The general guidelines, principles and procedures for this Programme were got approved through the Report of the Secretary General to the 41st session of the Council of Foreign Ministers held at Jeddah in June 2014. Active involvement of Member States in the preparation and implementation of the Programme of Action was identified as an essential requirement for its success. A detailed review of the strengths and weaknesses of the Member States and discussion on the rationale for selection of the priority areas contributed to a well-informed and realistic goal setting for 2016-2025. The long process of consultations between the Member States and the OIC organs and institutions, spreading over two years, ensured that the Programme incorporated the collective vision and enjoyed full support of all stakeholders.

The OIC-2025

3. The OIC-2025 is anchored in the provisions of the OIC Charter and focuses on 18 priority areas with 107 goals. It also keeps in full view issues on which the work is in progress and those emerging out of political and economic developments in the world. The priority areas include, (1) Palestine and Al-Quds, (2) Counter-Terrorism, Extremism, Violent Extremism, Radicalization, Sectarianism, and Islamophobia (3) Moderation, Cultural and Inter-faith Harmony (4) Peace and Security (5) Environment, Climate Change and Sustainability (6) Poverty Alleviation (7) Trade, Investment and Finance (8) Agriculture and Food Security (9) Employment, Infrastructure and Industrialization (10) Science, Technology and Innovation (11) Education (12) Health (13) Advancement and Empowerment of Women, Family Welfare and Social Security (14) Joint Islamic Humanitarian Action (15) Human Rights, Good Governance and Accountability (16) Media and Public Diplomacy (17) ICT and Digital Information Structure and (18) OIC Institutional Reforms.

4. The OIC-2025 is a comprehensive agenda for cooperation and partnership. Joint Islamic Action remains an essential element of the OIC's framework of cooperation and development. Its strategic vision recognizes the centrality of cooperation and partnership at all levels involving all stakeholders. It stresses the importance of political ownership and mainstreaming of OIC projects by Member States in their national priorities for effective implementation of the Programme. Its adoption by the OIC leaders at the 13th session of the Islamic Summit Conference (Istanbul, 14-15 April 2016) signifies the commitment at the highest political level to working together for a shared future. The OIC-2025 also acknowledges the need to fully utilize the existing programmes and frameworks for cooperation in various domains and declares that it will be implemented in harmony with the existing multilateral agreements/strategies/ and MOUs between the Member States and the OIC institutions including those of the OIC Standing Committees and other framework documents between the Member States.

The Priority Areas

5. The OIC of today is different from the OIC of yester years. In addition to longstanding peace and security issues, the OIC agenda includes many areas of immediate concern relating to human development, quality of life and well-being of the people. The OIC vision puts the people first and aims to develop human capital and achieve inclusive growth. The 18 priority areas clubbed under five broad clusters in the chart below bring out the underlying spirit of the development paradigm being pursued in this Programme of Action.

Sustainable Economic Development

The Guiding Principles

6. Accordingly, the following principles remain central to the development and implementation of the OIC-2025:

- Reflective of the aspirations of the people and enhancing their well-being;

- Islamic solidarity, partnership and cooperation;
- Country ownership and leadership;
- Collective approach for identification of targets and implementation of projects;
- Good Governance;
- Effective coordination and synergy.

Implementation Plan 2016-2025

7. Following its adoption by the 13th Islamic Summit (Istanbul, 14-15 April 2016), the OIC-2025 has now entered the critical phase of implementation. This phase rests on the direction requiring the General Secretariat, in consultation with the relevant OIC organs including the standing committees and other stakeholders, to propose an Implementation Plan for each sector to the Member States.

8. Accordingly, the Implementation Plan of the OIC-2025: Programme of Action was presented to the Senior Officials Meeting (Jeddah, 30 April – 2 May 2017) for consideration. The Implementation Plan elaborated 107 goals identified under 18 priorities areas into programmes and activities while clearly determining implementing partners and the suggested timelines. It highlighted the existing mandate for these activities emanating from various official pronouncements including Summit declarations, CFM resolutions, and reports of Standing Committees, sectoral ministerial meetings and work programmes of the OIC institutions. The programmes and activities being pursued in the Implementation Plan are thus within the ambit of approved activities and duly reflected in the annual programmes of work of the relevant institutions in the OIC system.

9. The 44th session of the Council of Foreign Minister (Abidjan, 10-11 July 2017) vide its Resolution 1/44-POA on the OIC-2025: Programme of Action, inter-alia, took note of the Implementation Plan of the OIC-2025 in each priority area and called upon the Member States, the OIC organs and institutions, United Nations and its specialized agencies as well as other stakeholders to undertake all necessary measures for its effective implementation. In this regard it requested the Secretary General to prepare a progress report on the implementation of the OIC-2025. The resolution further called upon the Secretary General to invite inputs of the Member States, relevant OIC institutions including the standing committees for further development of the Implementation Plan.

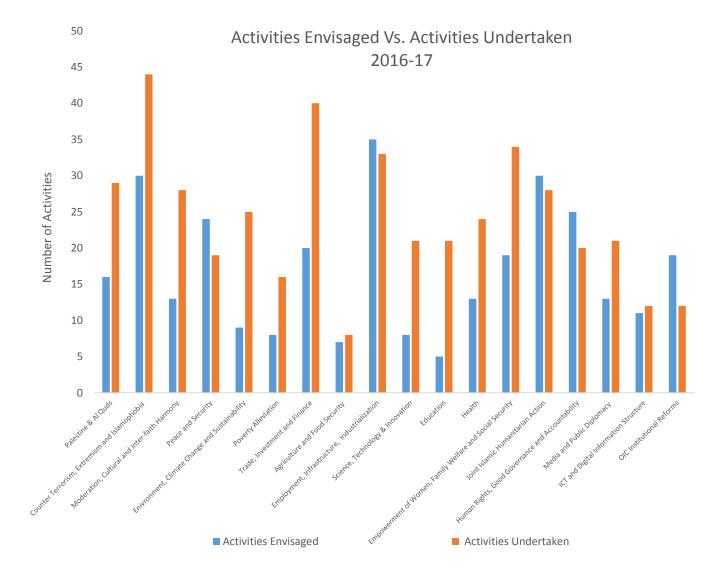

10. In line with the above, the General Secretariat invited inputs of the esteemed Member States as well as the relevant OIC institutions for further development of the Implementation Plan. It requested the relevant OIC institutions to send progress report in regard to implementation of programmes and activities envisaged in terms of OIC-2025, falling within the scope of their work, during the year 2016-17.

The Progress Report 2016-17

11. Accordingly, the Progress Report on the implementation of the OIC-2025 for 2016-17 has been prepared on the basis of the inputs received from the Member States and the relevant institutions. It contains implementation status of programmes and activities being carried out in terms of 107 goals listed under 18 priority areas of the OIC-2025. This being the first progress report since the adoption of the OIC-2025 (14-15 April 2016) and finalization of the Implementation Plan during the 44th session of the CFM (Abidjan, 10-11 July 2017), the progress has been very encouraging and confirms that actions as stipulated in the Implementation Plan are being actively pursued and are at different stages of finalization. The initial phase of developing the Implementation Plan and programmes and activities for each sector is since complete, the work in the years ahead is expected to be more consistent, focused and mutually reinforcing.

12. The report in hand presents an elaborate account of programmes and activities in the context of OIC-2025 during 2016-17 including those in the pipeline, likely to be undertaken during the last days of the current year 2017. All these activities are 'means to an end' and are intended to contribute towards the realization of the approved goals within the given time frame. These programmes and activities, therefore, should not be taken as a 'one-time activity' and would be repeated with some adjustments in the coming years. It is heartening to note that all institutions in the OIC family are fully committed to the goals and objectives of the OIC-2025 and their activities are geared toward timely realization of the same. Their commitment to contribute to the achievement of the OIC-2025 goals is evident from the fact that in many cases the number of programmes and activities undertaken during 2016-17 have exceeded the number of activities originally envisaged in the Implementation Plan.

13. The OIC-2025 recognizes the significance of the UN- 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and shares the promise that it holds for all people. The UN-2030 Agenda aims at balancing the three dimensions of sustainable development. The scope of OIC-2025, however, goes beyond the three dimensions of sustainable development and includes many specific areas of peace and security, issues of cultural and inter-faith harmony, Islamophobia, combating extremism and terrorism and alike. The areas being pursued in the OIC-2025 and the UN-2030 are reflective of the shared perceptions of the two organisations on various key issues. The OIC being the second largest intergovernmental organisation after the United Nations with all its States being member of both bodies, the OIC-2025 can play an important role in promoting global partnership and intensive global engagement for the success of both programmes. An elaborate system of collaboration between the two organizations for this purpose is already in place and a number of specialized agencies and other regional bodies are listed among the implementing partners in the OIC-2025.

14. The General Secretariat shall soon be forwarding the three key documents, namely (i) OIC-2025: Programme of Action,(ii) Implementation Plan 2016-2025 and (iii) Progress Report 2016-2017 to all stakeholders, international organizations, regional bodies, UN specialized agencies as well as national authorities in the Member States inviting them to contribute in realizing the overall goals of the OIC-2025. These stakeholders would be invited to indicate specific activities, programmes and projects they wish to undertake, independently or jointly, for carrying forward the stated goals and objectives of the OIC-2025 in the coming years.
